“ My grandmother was the strongest woman I know. I am a lot like her in so many ways. I could always count on her to solve my problem. She always gave the best and most honest advice!! She taught me to be strong and to always keep my head held high. My best memories of her are when she used to let me come over during the Christmas holidays and pick out whatever I wanted in the JCPennys "Big Book". I couldn't wait for her to receive it in the mail!! I also remember all the times I went to the auction with them. She would tell me what to bid on, and if it was a decent, expensive, well made piece. She has also taught and instilled in me the love for my church. I remember her telling me, "Megan, you go to church for yourself and no one else." Boy was she right. I get out of it, what I put into it and I never really understood that until her. She was so proud of me to start a new Sunday School class in her old room. I will keep doing things to make her AND my grandfather proud, as now, they are with me EVERYWHERE i go. (And smiling down)

Dear Ms Helen. I have the fondest memories of all the many things you did during my years growing up in the Siloam Methodist Church. Many bible schools, and programs that involved all of us children. You were so kind to have a wedding shower for me. It is still a fond memory. Thank you for your love if the Lord. You persevered to the end. Now I know you are blessed in His presence.
