“ It is heart aching to think that you've been gone for over seven years now. As my college graduation quickly approaches, I can only hope you are looking down, proud of me. I continue to work hard for my future so you can see your baby girl be successful. I love you endlessly and can not wait to see you again. The day we get to go fishing again, is going to be a great one. As selfish as it may be, I truly do wish that you could be here. A lot of great things have happened and some worse; throughout all of those times, I would break into cries and only wish that you could be here to hold me. You always gave me such a feeling of protection and I miss it so dearly. I love you dad, and I will see you soon.

“ I love you dad. Words can never explain how much I miss you. I went fishing a while back, and the whole time I couldn't stop thinking about you, and how we used to fish. I miss getting to go to Tin Lizzie and hear all the crazy stories of you and mom. I miss getting to watch movies all day, and you making extra chessy Mac and chesse. I miss everything about you. Tomorrow marks three years that you've been gone. I have no clue how I've gotten this far without you. I can't wait to finally see you again. Love always, your baby girl ❤️

“ The world lost the greatest Father-in-law a girl could ask for! He treated me as part of the family the first day I met him! I will always cherish every moment we had together. And his granddaughters will know just how caring, loving, courageous, thoughtful, hard working he truly was. We will all see you again Jimmy! Kaleigh says "Love you to the moon and back, Papa Jimmy!"

“ R.I.P. Jimmy....Our friendship was very special to me...We have known each other since school days...you all lived close to my grandparents...you were like a brother to me and I have so many pictures and so many memories of us growing up together...I'll cherish the memories forever and ever..I know that nobody can ever take away the memories, the conversations, and just being friends....I wish I could have took the pain from you, but I couldn't...I think you battled this like the true warrior that you were...I am blessed to have known you and know that you will never have to suffer anymore....love you always your sis...Debbie
