“ When Virginia and Don lived at The Henry Clay we made many memories. The memory that sticks in my mind is the beautiful love they had for each other. We took a trip for a day of picnicking. Don always helped Her out of the van. While waiting for lunch everyone visited, walked around and such but Don was pushing Virginia in the swing when I looked around, both were so tickled, laughing like teenage sweethearts. Don got into a swing and they giggled and talked for awhile. They had a special love for one another. I am so thankful God allowed me to have them in my life. My heart is warmed each time I remember their swinging day. Love and prayers to the whole family.
