“ Buddy and I met in the mid to late 1980s at a Jackson stamp club meeting. He and I shared our hobby over lunch about every week or two and during weekly phone conversations. I will remember Buddy for his knowledge of not only stamps but politics and just about any subject. He loved his Corvette, as ragged as it might have been. The only thing in his personal life that we ever discussed was his sister and her family. He would tell me about the Christmas presents he received. When I left Jackson for Knoxville, TN, we continued our phone conversations on about a weekly basis. I will miss my friend, Buddy.

Condolences to his family and friends.

“ This is from a letter dated 1/28/11
The quote is from Dr. Jimmie and Jane Cotten

"Buddy Coleman is a church member willing to respond when called on, and he always accepts these requests at the last minute. Every church needs someone with Buddy's willing spirit and commitment to helpfulness."

“ It's safe to say that Buddy was always the smartest person in the room. He was so kind and friendly. It's been years since I've seen him, but I know we could get a good conversation going. God bless his family. RIP, dear Buddy. Thanks for the memories.

I had posted a response when I heard of Buddy's passing but it must have gotten lost somehow. Buddy was my friend for many years dating back to very young ages in West Point. We enjoyed stamp collecting together all through the years and we stayed in touch over the years by telephone and lengthy letters. We both enjoyed politics, stamps and trivia of almost any subject. I feel i lost my friend some time back when he really could not communicate. He was a reliable, honest, upright human being. I miss him very much. Thomas P. (Tommy) Turner, Birmingham, AL
