“ Will, my brother from a another mother, we miss you already. You left us too soon and you left a huge hole in our hearts. You left us but the memories we made together over the years will stay with us and will keep you alive in our hearts. You and I connected at a different level since we were both widowers with similar circumstances and experiences. You were generous and kind. We miss our get togethers with the Bros, Rick and Alfredo. We miss the Christmas party at you house. We miss the BBQ and the singing in your backyard. And we miss all the adventures we shared over the years.

My prayers and condolences go to your family and friends. May God give us all the strength and patience we all need during these most difficult times. And may your soul rest in peace with the Lord

“ Will Robinson was one of my dear friends when I lived in Haymarket Virginia. I used to call him my wing man whenever we all went out. He knew that I hated to drive ,especially at night, and he always was o.k. with it .He was a good man who would help you out if he could. He was always happy, and looked on the bright side, I know that you knew the Lord ,because we talked about it the last time we spoke on the phone . God bless you Will and may you rest in peace! With love and thanks, Debbie Files
